TRENDS IN EXPORT REPORT 2024

In a rapidly changing world, the theme of 'resilience' has become essential for exporters. Global cooperation is showing clearer fault lines, with geopolitical tensions taking their toll. Recent events, such as the war in Ukraine, have drastically altered the dynamics of trade partnerships.

Within this context, France remains one of the key trading partners for Dutch businesses. According to the Trends in Export report by Artradius, France holds the third position in the top 10 export destinations within the EU for the Netherlands. This consistency in the rankings demonstrates the solid nature of the trade relationship between the Netherlands and France.

of having access the right support and a reliable network to overcome these obstacles and maintain strong trade relations.

Looking ahead, it's clear that the French market keeps offering great potential, despite the changing geopolitical landscape. Let's continue to work together on a successful trade relationship, with a touch of resilience and optimism. Contact info@nfcc.fr to kickstart your French adventure today!
